I'm on strike

UCU

Strike action at every USS institution in the country, alongside branches in the pay and conditions dispute, brings 150 universities to a standstill.

Members vote overwhelmingly to move forward with proposals agreed with employers to restore pensions and potentially reduce contributions.

UCU members vote again for strike action in the rebalot with 89% voting yes in another historic ballot result. This means we can continue to hold employers' feet to the fire.

USS Joint Negotiating Committee (JNC) meetings to take place involving UCU and UUK to receive financial monitoring figures, confirm the framework for a consultation of universities and members, and agree funding methodology and assumptions for a new valuation.
