Dear Middlesex University,

When I was young I dreamt of being a *rock star/model/Premier League footballer/footballer's wife/.....

Next I thought about *entrepreneur/ international business leader/reality TV star/.....

I am staff/student In case you can't place me, I'm the one with (brief description).....

I still have a dream, but it isn't just about me any more. It's about us at Middlesex University, and the difference we could make in the world. I dream of being at a university that thinks about what we're doing to the planet and those around us, and considers how we could do things better.

I'd like you to think about doing some things with me...:

What we should do

Mark with an X

Recycle everything we can on campus

Set up more student and staff car pools

Use more ethical suppliers to the university from paper to food

Use only fair-trade coffee in our fabulous cafes

Set up a university-wide climate change action group

Allow only double sided photocopies by staff and students

Find a way of switching off the lights and equipment at night

We should all sign up to the 10:10 - including you, Middlesex

Go together to the 5th December demonstration in London

Not wishing to appear greedy, I'd also like you to consider the following action against climate change
