

UCU is the union for academic and academic-related staff in the UK. That includes lecturers, researches, librarians, and IT and admin staff. Postgraduates who are teaching or planning a career in higher education can also join UCU.

If you are facing a problem such as bullying, or are worried about redundancy or restructuring, we can help. If you are employed on a fixed-term contract we can help ensure you get the most from your career.

As a member of UCU, you have the support of trained local officers and access to legal advice and representation. But don't wait until you have a problem, join us today.

Remember, the more staff who join, the more we can achieve.
